Rep. Foster Defends Them, Saying They Would Be the First to Fight for America.

(Special to The Herald)
Washington, Jan. 11.—Should the U.
S. become involved in a war with any foreign foe, the so-called German-Americans would be the first to shoulder arms and battle for the rights of America. This was declared by Representative Foster of Illinois in the house today in answering the attack upon them made by Representative Garner. "It is highly improper and unfor-

(Special to The Herald)

Overseas News Agency, which says:
"Copenhagen newspapers report that

We hear from competent authorities they must be from the German cruiser Bremen, since an accident to any other ship belonging to the German navy is out of the question."
The Bremen was a cruiser of 3200 tons displacement and was built in 1902. She carried a crew of 297 men.

was instructed to warn Consul Higgins if the reports are true, against a

Lansing denied that he had received a demand for Higgins' recall. The state department's action was taken as the result of receiving a copy of the Cologne Gazette which published the charges against Higgins.

DUTCH WITHHOLD APPROVAL OF FORD PARTY

Want Them to Show Some Definite Plan of What They Are Going to Do.

(Special to The Herald)
The Hague, Jan. 11.—Leading peace advocates of Holland who have garthered here in the hope that the Ford expedition would be able to offer Janguible plans for ending the war, decided today to withhold official endorsement of the Ford party. It was explained that the refusal to endorse the expedition and its purposes should not be regarded as tantamount to condemnation. The Dutch people wish merely to give the Ford party time to agree upon a definite court of action. Several Dutch peace people attended a meeting last night at which American delegates delivered addresses it was hoped to accomplish.

in many other official institutions, has resigned from all his offices, with director. Officials say that he was forced to take this action because of the Clayton act which prohibits interlocking bank directorates.

BREAD SHORTAGE ADMITTED IN GERMANY

Government Cancels Program for Larger Distribution of Bread.

(Special to The Herald)
Berlin, via wireless, Jan. 11.—The German government cancelled its announced program for the distribution of larger quantities of bread. It was announced that the original bread distribution program would remain in effect and the sufficient bread ration for all hard working persons would be provided. According to the Overseas News Agency the change in the government plan was due to the fact that investigation showed that there must be a careful use of the bread and corn stock, which as the measure increased the rate had caused the impression that the supply was super-abundant.

Violent Battle Going On in the

(Special to The Herald)

thered an army of 10,000 in the vicinity

NEW GERMAN OFFENSE OPENS IN CHAMPAGNE

Berlin Reports Capture of French Positions in Vicinity of Massiges-- Reports Denied in Paris

London, Jan. 10.—The Champagne district in France is again the scene of an offensive movement, this time the Germans being the aggressors. North-east of Massiges, on ground which the French gained in their September drive, the Germans have taken several hundred yards of trenches, capturing more than four hundred prisoners, five machine guns, and several mine throwers, according to the claim of Berlin. A French counter attack is declared to have failed. Paris gives a different account of the result. The French statement asserts that the German attacks broke down and that after a temporary foothold in the French positions at some points the Germans were afterwards driven out except from two small sections of advanced trenches.

An offensive movement has been inaugurated by the German forces in the Champagne. Announcement was made by the German War Office today that French positions extending over several hundred yards at a point north-west of Massiges had been captured by the Germans.

The conquered positions are near Maison de Champagne. The Germans captured 423 prisoners, including seven officers, five machine guns, and one large and seven small mine throwers. A French counter attack made to the east of the positions taken by the Germans, failed.

A German air craft division attacked the rear guard establishments of the Allies at Fumes.

Germans Tell of Alsace Capture

The War Office at Berlin announced that near Hirsstein, south of Hartmannsweiler Kopf the Germans yesterday completed their conquest of the trenches which on Dec. 21 fell into the hands of the French. Twenty officers, 1053 chasseurs and fifteen machine guns were captured.

German Gain in Alsace

The French troops have withdrawn from the summit of Hirsstein, south of Hartmannsweiler Kopf. This admission is made by the communication in the withdrawal was due to the capture by the Germans of a hill north of Hirsstein. The text of the communication follows.

"In Belgium our artillery fire surprised two groups of enemy infantry to the east of Lambertz and dispersed them.

"In Champagne, a German mine was exploded to the south of the Butte du Mesnil. An engagement with grenades was fought around the excavation, of which we remained masters.

"A bombardment of our lines between Saint-Mihiel and Grand and Ville sur Tourbe was met with an effective counter shelling by our artillery. The enemy, despite preparations for an attack noted by our observers, were not able to get out from their trenches. In the Argonne our guns exploded a mine which dealt in the enemy lines at La Fille Morle.

"In the Vosges we carried out north of Metz, an effective bombardment. The Germans who had evacuated the village were taken under the fire of our seventy-five's. To the north-west of Metz, near Sleswiler, we caused several fires in the German works.

"To the south of Hartmannsweilerkopf, after a series of fruitless follow-up by a violent bombardment the Germans succeeded in taking possession of a little neck of land situated to the north of the summit of Hirsstein. Under these conditions our troops occupy the summit with advantage. It has been established by reports received that our barrier area which were very precise, inflicted considerable losses on the enemy. The artillery struggle continues."

French Bombardment Continues

The French War Office issued the following statement on military operations:

"In Artois during the night our batteries directed an efficacious fire on the German trenches west of Blarriville.

"In the Champagne we bombarded communication trenches of the enemy to the southwest of Butte du Mesnil, where movements of troops were reported."

Counter-Check in Galicia

The Times Petrograd correspondent, who is visiting headquarters, says that he learns the Russian blow in Galicia and Bessarabia was planned with great secrecy as a strategic means for helping the Entente Allies in the Balkans, but that, as in previous movements of the same kind the Germans got wind of it and began immediately to withdraw their troops from the Danube.

"The recent conference in Sofia, in which Field Marshal von Mackensen urged the Bulgarians to continue their march on Salonica," says the correspondent, "should be interpreted in the light of this withdrawal. The Germans were doubtful whether the Bulgars would pursue the adventure once von Mackensen's troops were obliged to withdraw them, as the Russian offensive could not be gainsaid."

The correspondent pays tribute to the remarkable recuperative power the Russians have displayed in the formation of the magnificent forces now assembled among the Austro-German front. They are, he says, well supplied with ammunition. "In contrast to the position a year ago, when we were reduced to one shell per day per gun."

It would be premature, the correspondent adds, to draw hard and fast conclusions on the result of the present movement, and many a faint and hazy is likely to be witnessed before Generals Ivanoff and von Mackensen and Archduke Joseph Ferdinand come to decisive blows. A slight frost, the correspondent concludes, has improved the roads, without stopping trenching operations, and the Russians are capturing the aftermath of Teutonic trenches.

Czernowitz Near Its Fall

"The Austrian General Planzer's forces fought under terrible conditions in the neighborhood of Bucacz (East Galicia)," says the same correspondent. "The sudden thaw after the cold snap filled the trenches with water and only the splendid qualities of the German soldiers saved the situation in the face of the unexpected difficulties. The correspondent and also the Times's Balkan correspondent dwell upon the importance of the town of Szigard, which the Russians are now approaching and which lies a few miles north-east of Czernowitz, as it is the junction of roads radiating in five directions. The population of the whole district has taken refuge in Czernowitz, which is full of Austrian wounded. The correspondents say the town is strongly fortified but that it is not expected to hold out long, as provisions are becoming scarce.

Russians Clearing the Strypa

The following official communications from General Headquarters at Petrograd was issued:

"Western (Russian) front: From Riga to the Pripiet there has been no change south of the Pripiet the enemy attempted anew to take Clartorish, but was twice repulsed with considerable losses.

"In Galicia in the direction of the Middle Strypa we finally drove the enemy from the eastern bank of the river.

"Fuller reports show that we captured on Friday in the fighting north-east of Czernowitz (Jukowka) twenty officers and 1175 soldiers and three machine guns."

Teuton Troops at Monastir

London, Jan. 10.—Reports from Athens say that rumors prevail of an early attack on Salonica by the Austro-German forces are concentrating in the Monastir region facing the French front, while the Bulgars are concentrating against the British front. A despatch to the Paris Temps from Salonica says:

"The concentration of Austro-German troops around Monastir is confirmed. The Bulgarian forces massed in the region of Ghevgeli, Dolna, Strumitsa, and Petrich are estimated at five or six divisions."

Sink German Plane at Salonica

The Paris war office gave out the following:

"Army of the east.—On the morning of Jan. 8 enemy aeroplanes bombarded the cantonnements of the Allies in the environs of Salonica. The material damage was insignificant. One of these aeroplanes was brought to earth by our artillery fire."

Montenegrin Position Bombarded

The following statement was issued tonight by the Montenegrin military authorities:

"The enemy made four energetic attacks beginning at daybreak on Jan. 7. The Austrian fleet sailed out of Bocche di Cattaro and violently bombarded our positions on Mount Lovcen."

Austrians Report Success

The War Office at Vienna has given out the following:

"Northeast of Berana Austrian and Hungarian troops stormed the heights occupied by the Montenegrins on the Tara River and captured one cannon. There were skirmishes along the Hercegovina frontier. In the district of the Gulf of Cattaro attacks against the Montenegrin troops are in progress."

New Protest by Greece

London, Jan. 10.—The Greek Government, says Reuters Athens correspondent, has made an energetic protest against the arrest at Smyrna of the German, Austrian and Turkish consuls by the military authorities of the Entente Allies. These arrests also have brought a new protest from the Central Powers.

The newspaper Cagri publishes an authorized denial of reports in the European press that negotiations are in progress between Greece and Bulgaria with a view to a general understanding.

Greece Cut Off from Bulgaria

Greece has again entered protest against measures taken by the Entente Powers which, it declares, render difficult the supplying of Greece with food from Bulgaria, according to an announcement by the Berlin Overseas News Agency.

Reprisal by Turkish Government

According to reports received from Constantinople, the Turkish Government, in reprisal for the treatment of Turkish subjects by the Entente Powers in Salonica, has interned 1000 subjects of Entente nations who were in Turkey. It is understood, according to the reports, that the Ottoman Government, in ordering the arrest of officials of the British and French embassies who had remained in Constantinople, took this step only as its first measure of reprisal for the arrest of the consuls of the Teutonic Allies at Salonica, and that further arrests are contemplated in this connection.

Crushing Revolt on Samos

The Greek cruiser Hell and the destroyer Leon, with a strong contingent of troops have been sent to Samos to cope with an insurrection on that island, said the due to lack of food stuffs, it is generally believed that martial law shortly will be proclaimed at Athens.

New York, Jan. 10.—Five former directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad today face the probability of another trial on charges of conspiracy to monopolize the railway traffic of New England. Concerning their guilt or innocence of this charge the jury in the first trial was unable to agree.

The five are William Rockefeller and Lewis Cass Ledyard of New York, Charles M. Pratt of Brooklyn, Charles F. Brooker of Ansonia, Ct., and Edward D. Robbins of New Haven. The other six former directors tried on the same charge were acquitted in a verdict returned at 4:30 p. m. yesterday.

In announcing that he would move for a new trial for the five men, R. L. Batts of counsel for the government said this step would be taken "in due time."

Four drunks and five lodgers were held at the police station last night.

SPEAKERS TELL HOW TO AVOID INTERNATIONAL WAR

MEETING IN BOSTON ADDRESSED
BY MEN WHO GIVE VIEWS ON WORLD ORGANIZATION

Boston, Jan. 10.—At the closing session of the second annual convention of the Society to Eliminate Economic Causes of War, held this afternoon in Faneuil Hall, Raymond L. Bridgman discussed "The Proposed Inter-Nation" Other addresses scheduled for the afternoon were: "The Need of an International Flag," by Roger Sherman Hoar of Concord; "The Need of International Immigration," by Walter Wood of Philadelphia; and "The Need of International Language," by Edward S. Payson of Boston.

"Change one word of President Wilson's recent inaugural in support of preparedness for war, 'national' to 'world,' said Mr. Bridgman, 'and the single thought of this address is world efficiency and security.' It is not 'America first,' but mankind first, for, if mankind is made secure against war, America will be better protected and enjoy more peace and prosperity than if our standard were 'America first.' Nor is our purpose preparedness for war, but preparedness against war; not that we may be able to fight successfully, if we are forced to fight, but that we may not be forced.

"National rights would be guaranteed by the world government to every nation, small or great, against aggression by any other nation or combination of nations. With world sovereignty would go world citizenship, implying free movements of populations to any part of the earth, solving the problems of certain national congestions without any danger from national territorial extensions or colonizations."

"The world army would supersede all national armies and there would be no need of national navies. In order to prevent unjustly heavy burdens on the small nations, the world army, might be apportioned by population to all nations, which had only one representative in the world legislature, and according to representation to all other nations. In order to guard against riot or revolution, in any country, the world government would station sufficient of its own army in each country to reinforce the civil police and to guard order. All fortifications, on national frontiers would be abolished. All national armies would be disbanded. All military training would be discontinued, save such as should be given to the world military academy and to the world troops. Manufacture of military supplies would be forbidden, save by the world government or under its regulation.

"Then, under the protection of world law, enforced by the world police, backed by the world army, if military force were necessary, trade and travel would penetrate to all parts of the world. Friendliness and confidence would take the place of suspicion and hate. Virgin resources of the earth would be developed, creating incalculable wealth. The definite end of all suspicion of aggression would stimulate world political life, unspeakably and mankind would enter upon an unprecedented career of peace and prosperity."

"It is freely admitted that there must be encountered great perplexities, dangers, reverses and discouragements. No millennium is claimed. But this convention, which is a triumphant demonstration of the truth in this plan, uniting sovereign states into a sovereign nation, faced dangers and discouragements without turning back. The success of America is the warrant of the success of the world state."

Under the auspices of the Civic Association, Professor Whoriskey presented a set of readings to an appreciative audience at Assembly Hall, Portsmouth High school building, last evening. He took his program from some of the best known dramatic poems and prose works and presented his work with a finish that was pleasing to all present.

The Worship of Bigness.

A writer truly says: "America is a quarter section, not a square foot country. It is the land of the biggest lakes, the longest rivers, the fastest trains, the tallest buildings, the land of the huge corporation and the spacious farm and the prodigious industrial enterprise." And it is just as true, as the writer says, that this prevalence of bigness has led the people into the habit of considering big things only as worthy of attention.

There is probably not a country in the world where bigness is worshiped as it is in the United States. The people like to talk in millions. As the writer puts it, they have a fascination for large figures and enormous scales of measurement. This is undoubtedly due to the fact that business in this country is conducted on such a large scale, that the country and its resources are so immense, that cities are so large, buildings so high, railroads so long and corporations so gigantic.

But while all of these things are admirable, it is unwise to lose sight of the fact that big things are simply an aggregation of small ones, and that the latter are not to be ignored by men and women having their way to make in the world in the humbler walks of life. Not every individual can operate on a large scale. It is therefore well to remember that there are inviolable opportunities in the world of modest endeavor and that we should grasp and improve these instead of being swept from our feet through over-ardent contemplation of the big developments of the times.

Long ago the question was asked, "Who shall despise the day of small things?" That question is as much in order today as it ever was, for not more so, because of the fact that people are so engrossed in the contemplation of big things that they forget the importance of those of lesser dimensions. As a result many men who could have made a success of life in a modest way have failed through attempting to do big things, for which nature did not design them.

The little house and garden, the small farm, the small store and workshop still have their value and their proper place in the life of the people. Fortunate is the man who can recognize this truth and content himself in his proper sphere instead of remaining forever at the bottom because of his inability to go to the top. Big things are admirable, but the worship of them is idolatry of the most inexcusable and crushing type.

When a United States judge invites all "hyphenated citizens" who put the interests of their native countries above those of the United States to "get off the face of the earth," as Judge Clayton of Alabama did in addressing a grand jury in New York the other day, his sentiment may be considered superior to his manners. But when he said to the jury, "If any of you have had the misfortune to be born in a foreign country," he deliberately insulted them if any foreign born citizen were in the box, and showed that this "hyphenated" hysteria is in danger of going to seed if it has not already done so.

Congress has been asked to appropriate $7,500 for the purchase of the suit of clothes worn by President Lincoln when he was assassinated, the suit to be placed in the Lincoln memorial building now being erected in Washington. It is not often that the "old clothes" man makes such a tempting offer. And in view of the many other and more inspiring memorials of the martyred president there are those who will question whether this gruesome relic is worth the price.

An unmarried man living near New York has sent notices to a large number of women stating that he is still a bachelor and that in case of a leap year consummation his antique furniture will "go with him." He ought to have employed a woman tutor to instruct him how to secure a "come-on" without advertising. The women understand the trick, being obliged to practice it three years out of every four.

The talk of conscription and press censorship for the United States indicates the extent to which the country is becoming "all bet up" over the preparedness question. When the European war ends, as it must one of these days, perhaps we shall find ourselves able to struggle on a few years longer without either.

An alleged authority says insanity is usually incurable, though in many cases preventable. Still there are cases in which the ailment is curable, though the process frequently takes time and money. Witness the Thaw case, for instance.

We are living in a ticklish time for health. If one escapes petromoritis he is liable to be attacked by acidosis. It behooves us all to be extremely careful.

YORK CLIFFS REAL ESTATE CASE SETTLED

Famous Vermeule Case Involving a Million Dollars Real Estate Settled.

The long contested Vermeule case which was a million dollar real estate attachment against the York Cliffs Improvement Company of York Beach, Me., and which has been in the courts since 1898 has been finally settled.

The decree which was signed by Chief Justice A. R. Savage at Bath Saturday afternoon, has been filed with Clerk of Courts Frank D. Pendergast and is now on record in the records of the supreme court of York county which at the present time is in session at Saco.

The decree is entered in a bill in equity proceedings instituted by Joseph Hoyer and Carolyn C. Vermeule against the York Cliffs Improvement Company. In July 19, 1915, John A. Snow was appointed temporary receiver.

The temporary receiver made claims against the estate of John D. Vermeule, who was an officer of the York Cliffs Improvement Company. Vermeule's executors denied the claim but a compromise was effected with Receiver Snow and as a result the executors conveyed to Receiver Snow some 90 acres of very valuable property on the coast of Maine, including the Passaconaway Inn, one of the finest hotels at York. The executors also paid to the receiver the sum of $23,000 in full settlement of all claims.

It is also ordered that Mr. Snow be appointed permanent receiver and there being no other claims against the company except those of Carolyn C. Vermeule, which is $18,162.47, and Joseph Hoyer for the sum of $73,258.35 and there being no opposition to dissolution of the company it is ordered that the compromise of the claims of the receivers against the estate of John D. Vermeule be confirmed and approved and that the receiver execute in favor of the estate to Mr. Vermeule a release of all claims which he as a receiver has or might have against the estate.

It is further decreed that out of the funds received by Mr. Snow that he pay the claimants or their order the sum of $18,000 and that he further pay to himself as receiver the sum of $3000 and to Leroy Haley $5,000 in settlement of all services of said Leroy Haley and the firm of George P. and Leroy Haley.

And it is further decreed that the York Cliffs Improvement Company be and the same is hereby dissolved and terminated.

In connection with the property decreed to the petitioners which included the Passaconaway Inn it may be said that the land operated with the Inn pasture property and consists of some very valuable coast property.

The litigation was considered one of the largest real estate attachments ever attempted in York county. The property in question is located at York Beach and includes some very valuable Maine coast property.

Since 1898 when the litigation was first started, all sorts of motions, bills in equity, etc., have been instituted in supreme court in York county, while cases in connection with the same have been taken into the United States courts.

FINAL "K" ON "MERRIMACK"

U. S. Geographic Board Establishes Uniform Spelling for Name of River at Gallinger's Request.

The spelling of "Merrimack" without final "k" has been authoritatively established by the U. S. Geographic Board so far as concerns its application to the river which turns the spindles of many manufacturing cities in the state and Massachusetts. In view of the fact that many persons had been in the habit of dropping the final "k" in writing the word, Senator Jacob H. Phillips recently asked the Geographic board for a ruling.

It was announced today that the board had received a letter from the board giving its decision as follows: "Merrimack: River, Massachusetts and New Hampshire (not Merrimack)."

CURRENT OPINION

We Need Sufficient Organized Force and the Spirit to Use It With Effect.

"It has been our misfortune to pursue a policy which has rendered us contemptible in the eyes of foreign nations, and we are treated as people who are ready to submit to every indignity which interest or caprice imposes upon us. It cannot, however, be too late to retrieve the national honor, and we ought to expect that our public councils will find that a manly, impartial and decided course of measures has now become indispensable, such a course as shall satisfy foreign nations that while we desire peace we have the means and the spirit to repel aggressions."

"The interests of the United States undoubtedly require a secure and honorable peace, but the only guarantee which ought or can with safety be relied on for this object is a sufficient organized force and spirit to use it with effect when no other honorable means of redress can be resorted to."

"The extensive resources, aided by the geographical situation of our country, have furnished every necessary means for defending our territory and our commerce, and we are false to ourselves when either is invaded with impunity."

—Extract from speech of Roger Griswold, Governor of Connecticut, delivered October 10, 1811.

REPORT OF COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY

Washington, Jan. 10.—The climax to the campaign against the charging of alleged usurious rates of interest by American national banks which has been prosecuted by John Skelton Williams, Comptroller of the Currency, came today when Comptroller Williams submitted to the house of representatives his annual report in which he gives a mass of detailed information regarding the exaction of excessive interest rates by national banks and urges upon congress drastic measures to punish offenders.

He says: "Usury unchecked means depopulation, hopelessness, thriftlessness, and resulting loss of producing capacity." "If there should be an amendment," the comptroller adds, "to the national bank act authorizing and directing the department of justice to bring suit against insurers upon information furnished either through the comptroller of the currency or through other sources, the practice of usury in all the national banks throughout the country can be stopped. I therefore earnestly recommend to the present congress the passage of such a law."

The comptroller's report states that on the outbreak of the European war, New York banks increased their normal interest rates to as high as 12 per cent in some cases. Through a threat to publish a list of names of New York banks not charging usurious rates, Comptroller Williams says he succeeded in forcing the banks to reduce their charges to six per cent.

Taking up the campaign among the country banks, the comptroller publishes long tables of rates charged in which he shows that rates as high as 200 per cent were exacted by some banks. Many of these high rates, the comptroller contends, were charged on small loans for short periods but he cites the instances of three Oklahoma banks which he declares have averaged rates of interest charged on all their loans of 25 per cent, 30 per cent and 40 per cent respectively. In all his tables the comptroller refrains from giving the names of the banks.

The comptroller alludes to his report a letter written by Judge T. C. McNabb of Sequoyah county, Okla., entitled "The Crimes of the Usurer in Oklahoma." Now they have ruined the small town owner, the tenant and the workman! This letter describes the pliable condition brought about among the work people of rural communities due to the rates charged by the country bankers. Other evidence the comptroller introduces, at times in his various sections of the country, Judge McNabb, the comptroller says, was forced from the bench on account of his warfare on the usurers.

Comptroller Williams recommends to congress in his report, much legislation designed to prevent banks from being "broken from the inside." Among these recommendations are the following:

Prohibit officers from borrowing from their own banks and prohibit directors from borrowing except on authority of the directors.

Require officers and employees to give surety bonds.

Limit the amount of bank money which may be lent to one firm, corporation or individual.

Prevent or limit payments of overdrafts.

Require certificates of deposit to be signed by two officers.

Prohibit officers and employees from altering by measures or debts entries on the books of national banks.

Limit to four per cent the interest to be paid on deposits except when the discount rate fixed by the Federal Reserve Bank fixes a higher rate, whereupon banks in such Federal Reserve Bank district may equal, but not exceed the rate, in such cases the national banks in such state may equal the state rate.

Authorize national banks to establish branches in the United States and permit branch banks in Alaska and inular possessions.

Authorize banks to charge a minimum of 25 cents for small loans.

Authorize the comptroller to bring action against directors for bank losses due for violations of the banking laws.

Require bank directors responsible for losses through unwise investments to make restitution to their banks.

Provide for service by directors or executive committees of banks in person so that all may have the experience.

Empower the comptroller to remove fully directors.

Authorize consolidation of national banks.

Authorize the standardization of national bank by laws.

Prevent delays in the taking of oaths by directors.

Limit deposits to eight or ten times capital and surplus.

Empower the comptroller to fine banks for violations of bank laws.

Provide punishment for making excessive loans.

Prevent wildcat banking in the district of Columbia.

The comptroller's report declares that the Federal Reserve System has operated successfully despite the gloomy predictions of panic following its institution made by opponents of the measure. He says the old reserve system was precarious and untrustworthy but that the new Federal Reserve System may be depended upon to safeguard the country from panic.

Resources of the national banks of the United States on November 10, 1915, the date of the last call amounted to $14,236,321,370, compared with $11,422,485,722 on October 31, 1914 according to the comptroller's report. The excess reserve, November 10, according to the report, amounted to $21,716,621, the greatest in the history of American banking.

Since the institution of the Federal Reserve System, says the comptroller, deposits in national banks increased $2,881,530,161 and loans and discounts increased $917,450,502. Capital, surplus and individual profits increased $17,000,000,000.

FOR UNIFORM REPORTS.

State Tax Commissioners Have Plan for City and Town Uniform Reports.

Concord, Jan. 10.—The state tax commission will make an effort this year to put into operation the plan of having uniform city and town financial reports in accordance with the law passed by the last legislature on the recommendation of Governor Spaulding.

The commission has had E. A. Mable, a post graduate student at Dartmouth college, work out a tentative plan for the systematization of town, city and town officials who have been informed of the plan approved of it recently.

Mr. Mable has prepared a sample report which will be sent out with the blank forms within a few days, which will give a comprehensive idea of the plan and he of much aid to the selection. Mr. Mable took the last town report for Tilton, Judge William H. Fellows' home town and filled in the form as it should be.

Several of the towns in the state had been taking steps to work out a new method and it was expected to bring in outside expert accountants to go over the books and establish a new system. The action by the legislature and the employment of Mr. Mable by the tax commission under the act, has caused a change in the plans of the towns that were considering new methods and the uniform plan will be adopted. Gorham was negotiating for an expert and was prepared to spend several hundred dollars, and Claremont was also about to call in an expert, but the appointment of Mr. Mable has resulted in both towns saving these expenditures.

Mr. Mable was selected for the job of working out the plan because he had been making a study of municipal accounts. He has specialized along these lines in college and was preparing a thesis on the subject. Several towns were visited by him and eventually he came to Concord to consult Secretary Fellows of the tax commission. Mr. Mable dropped in just about the time the legislature enacted the governor's bill into law, and his knowledge of the subject impressed the tax commission, which has charge of the carrying out of the law, so that a letter was made to him to take up the work. Mr. Mable has carried it along in connection with his studies in Thick School at Dartmouth this year.

Gale Struck Fleet

Disabled in the northeast gale of last Friday and Saturday which swept the coast with the wind attaining a maximum velocity of 65 miles, three destroyers of the Atlantic fleet have put into the Norfolk navy yard for repairs before proceeding south for winter maneuvers. Several vessels of the fleet ran very near the danger line of an exhausted fuel supply during the storm.

The O'Brien had a tonnage carried away and will have a new one installed before steaming. The Cushing also lost a tonnage and one of the Cummings' lifeboats was crushed against the destroyer's side by a giant sea.

Battleships Talk Across Continent

Flagships of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets were in radio communication Monday across about twenty-five hundred miles of intervening land. The battleship Wyoming, near Cape Henry, reported to the navy department that messages exchanged with the San Diego at Guaymas, Mexico, were strong and usually read. Unusual static conditions probably made possible this conversation, the feat of communication between the two fleets over such an extent of land never before having been accomplished. Improved apparatus recently installed on the big ships of the navy also aided in the success of the feat.

(Special to The Herald)

Washington, Jan. 11.—Evidence that the recent rioting at East Yonkers, Ohio, was directly due to plots fostered by the foreign element in the town has been uncovered by government agents. FREE LECTURE ON PEACE AND WAR

DAVID GOLDSTEIN

Arrangements have been completed by the Portsmouth Council, Knights of Columbus last night for the free lecture by David Goldstein of Boston, on Peace and War, which is to be held at Freeman's hall on January 27th at 8 o'clock p. m.

It is announced that Mr. Goldstein will deal with his subject under three headings, giving the causes of war and the way to establish peace in our domestic, industrial and governmental relations. Mr. Goldstein will make plain the Christian attitude on these three phases of his subject while he exposes the false teachings of the radicals.

What causes family disruption? What solution do Catholics offer for divorce and its kindred modern evils? What causes the industrial conflicts of our time? How would Catholics establish industrial peace? What is the cause of war? Does the European war prove Christianity to be a failure?

What is needed to establish and maintain an enduring peace of nations?

What has the Church done for international peace? What can she do today?

Does obedience to the Pope in matters of faith and morals conflict with the patriotic duty of Catholics to their country?

Is there a higher form of patriotism than that taught by the Catholic Church? These are some of the questions that Mr. Goldstein will answer in his address.

His arguments are said by his friends to stand the test of right reason but his enemies are not so complimentary.

Mr. Goldstein is a convert to the Catholic faith, having been baptized on May 21st, 1905, which was two years after he resigned from the Socialist movement. Mr. Goldstein's fearless and uncompromising attitude in defense of Christian principles against the assault of opponents has at length won for him a very high standing in the community in which he lives. And it has won for him thousands of friends in the many cities where he has spoken throughout the United States and Canada. Mr. Goldstein has the distinction of having been selected by His Holiness William Cardinal O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston as the layman to represent the Catholic view of sociological problems in 1907 and year after year since that time. He is sent to the annual conventions of the American Federation of Catholic Societies each year to represent Boston.

The announcement that Mr. Goldstein is to speak in his home city is a guarantee of a packed house. In reporting the opening of the Common Cause Forum last season, the Boston Journal says: "Catholics and Socialists by the thousands flocked to Franklin Union hall last night to hear David Goldstein, a convert to the Catholic faith tell of his journey from Socialism to the Church. Although the hall was filled, three thousand others in front of the building clamored for admittance until long after 9 o'clock when they were finally convinced that no other person could be admitted."

Mr. Goldstein's sound reasoning and convincing logic is said frequently to arise, the lips of his opponents who invariably flock to hear and quiz him, despite the attempts of the national officers of the Socialist party to get their members to "smother Goldstein and ask him no questions." The press reports that "they came with the hope of causing embarrassment to the speaker, but in every instance Mr. Goldstein has met the enemy, disarmed their tactics and completely defeated them." In answer to a California Socialist who made an attack upon Mr. Goldstein, he replied in part, "The charge of being a professional turncoat has in fact no slenderest thread to hold on to. My record is simple. I have not changed from one organization to another nor back again. I have been associated with but one trade union during my life as a journeyman—that is the Cigar Makers International Union of America, of which I am still a member in good standing and in which I am proud to say I hold a 26 year old card. I have been associated with but one political movement—I resigned from the Socialist party twelve years ago, after a futile attempt to induce it to repudiate its immoral teachings. I have been connected with but one church—the Roman Catholic Church—into which I was privileged to enter twelve years ago last May the twenty-first."

"Moreover I am not a turncoat with regard to my religious convictions. I am a devoted follower of Our Dear Lord. Being a Catholic means not a denial of great Jewish traditions, but rather a recognition of their greatness by reason of their fulfillment of the law which was placed into the hands of the children of Israel, and the institution of the higher laws in the Blessed Sacrament, which calls all men to spiritual perfection. I pray every day that the remnant of God's chosen people may be brought to the realization that the veil in the Temple has been rent; that the Messiah has come; that He actually exists within His own Church; that His Sacred Heart beats for every one of them; that He patiently awaits their entrance into the one, true fold, the fulfillment of His own prophecy."

BOOTH TARKINGTON FAVORS FEDERAL CHILD LABOR BILL

Author Says There Can Not Be Two Ways of Looking at It.

"It is inconceivable that there should be opposition to the federal child labor bill," says Booth Tarkington in a letter to the National Child Labor Committee. "There are some questions upon which there can be two opinions, both honest and intelligent; but this is not such a question. Opposition must either be insane or hypocritical. Two ways of looking at the child labor evil are like two ways of looking at a massacre."

Among others who have recently written to the National Child Labor Committee expressing their interest in the bill are Henry Cabot Lodge, Dr. S. Parks Collins, Dr. Charles E. Tetterton, Stephen S. Wise, Henry Steiner, Harrison James Oppenheim, and Harvey W. Wiley. Individual endorsements of the bill are coming to the office of the committee every day, and it is evident that interest in the bill is nation-wide. The bill, known as the Keating-Owen child labor bill, is similar to the Palmer bill which passed the house last year, and it is hoped that popular interest in it will be so strong, and so many people will write their congressmen and senators in its behalf that it will pass both house and senate at this session. Information in regard to it may be obtained from the National Child Labor Committee, 105 East 22d Street, New York.

BRITIAN TIGHTENS EMIGRATION RULES

Bars Landing or Leaving Any Port in the United Kingdom Without Passports Under New Defense of the Relam Law

Washington, Jan. 10.—Restrictions to govern the emigration of British subjects of military age from England, Scotland, Ireland or Wales are contained in new regulations announced to the state department today by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador.

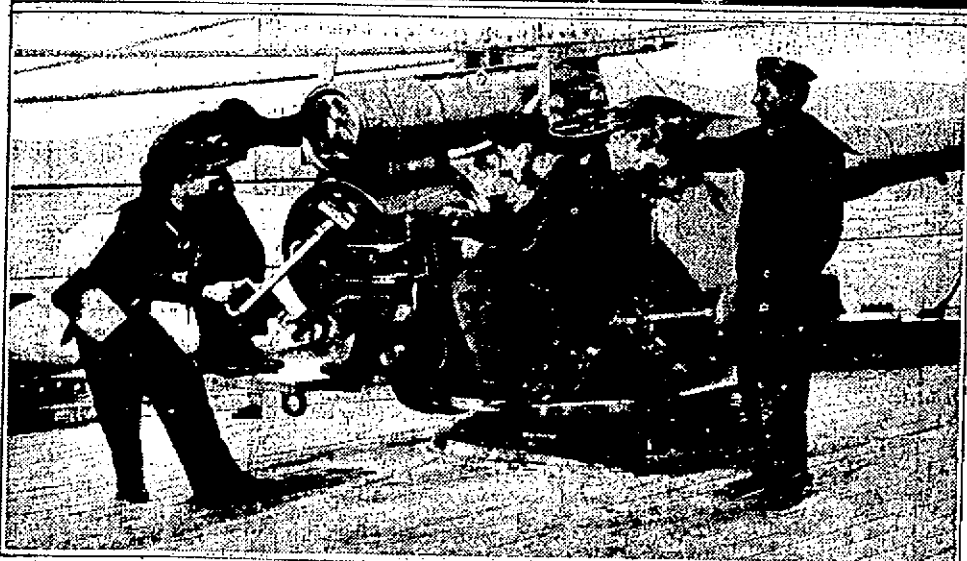

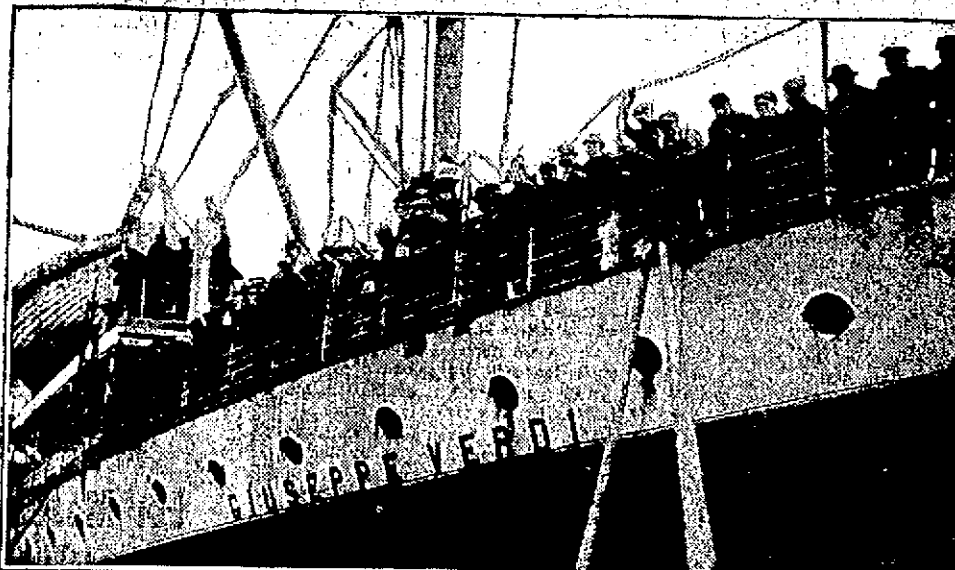

Under the defence of the Ralm Act, no person will be allowed to land or embark at any port in the United Kingdom unless he has in his possession a valid passport issued within two years by the government of the country of which he is a citizen.

Exception will be made in special cases, British subjects of military age—that is, between 18 and 41—who desire to leave the United Kingdom if resident in England, Scotland or Wales must have a passport issued by the foreign office after Nov. 15, 1915, or revised since that date. British subjects must possess passports or permits of military age resident in Ireland from the lord lieutenant of Ireland, who is authorized to give permission to embark.

Persons coming from a place outside of the United Kingdom must have passports issued or revised within two years or other documents establishing their nationality and identity. Any person who lands or embarks in contravention of the regulations, or any person who, having special permission to land, fails to comply with certain conditions, shall be deemed guilty of a summary offence against the rules.

RIGHT OF PASSENGER SHIP TO BE ARMED. MADE ACUTE QUESTION BY VERDI'S GUNS

GIUSEPPE VERDI and ITALIAN SAILORS HANDLING NAVAL GUN.

Photos by American Press Association.

The new Italian liner Giuseppe Verdi arrived in New York on her second voyage from Genoa with her 267 passengers on board and two three-inch rapid fire guns mounted on her after deck. When the steamer arrived at quarantine the guns and while crews cover over them, but no attempt was made by Captain Luigi Zannoni or his officers to disguise what they were. The matter aroused keen interest in view of the disputed right of merchantmen to carry guns for either offensive or defensive purposes. "The guns were placed on the ship at Genoa this time," said Captain Zannoni of the Giuseppe Verdi. "They are to be used solely to protect my passengers, the mails and cargo if we are attacked. These are 7 millimeter guns, which is a little more than three inches caliber. They are rapid fire guns with a capacity of twenty-four shells a minute and a range of four and a half miles. The shells weigh 33 kilos, which is about eighteen pounds." When asked if the guns could be fired by any member of the crew of the liner, Chief Officer Maggi replied that all seamen and firemen in the Italian merchant service had served in the navy, but that they were not all capable of handling guns in a proper manner, this requiring special training. "On this voyage," he said, "we shipped two foreign gunner's mates to take charge of the two guns, and from what I have seen of their marksmanship in practice on the voyage they could hit a fly's leg at 4,000 yards." Pictures show Italian reservists sailing on the Giuseppe Verdi an Italian sailor handling gun.

LARGE NUMBER ENJOYED MUSIC BY Mc ENELLY

NOVELTY ORCHESTRA AT FREEMAN'S HALL FURNISHED MUSIC FOR CONCERT AND DANCING

At Freeman's hall last evening McEnelly's novelty singing orchestra furnished the music for a dancing party which was patronized by two hundred or more couples, every number of which was applauded and encore after encore demanded. McEnelly is fast becoming one of the best drawing cards for dances in this city and the brand of music his team is presenting is excellent.

The evening's entertainment opened with a concert of one hour and it was fully appreciated. The program included several of the best of the light and grand operatic numbers and some popular selections, introducing vocal and instrumental solo work.

Concert Program
March—Cradle of Liberty.
Overture—Orpheus.
Intermezzo—(a) Golden Dreams.
(b) Shadowgraphs.
Song for Trombone—Goodbye.
Mr. Rousseau.
Operatic Selection—Dedication and Benediction from Les Huguenots.
Plate solo—Medley of Old Songs.
Mr. Startevant.
Selection—The Girl Who Smiles.
Finale—Hallelujah California.
Brass Trio and Orchestra.

Dancing started with the final number of the concert program as the music for the first one step and continued until 1:00 o'clock.

For the waltz numbers Mr. McEnelly played several of the famous works of master musicians and followed these with the best of the modern composers, including Spanish and Italian waltzes, several of which were sung by him, accompanied by his orchestra. The ensemble singing of the lios and choruses of the popular numbers used for the one steps and fox trots were a novelty and they were fully appreciated. The use of special instruments such as mandolins, guitars, banjos and others added much to the effectiveness of the numbers being played.

RIOTING CASES GO TO JURY

INVESTIGATION AT EAST YOUNG TOWN IS BEGUN AND FACTORY TAKING MEASURES TO RE-OPEN.

Youngstown, O., Jan. 10.—The grand jury today began an investigation into the riot in East Youngstown Friday night. More than two hundred men have been arrested and a majority of these will be held pending the outcome of the inquiry which will be made under the direction of A. H. Henderson, prosecuting attorney of Mahoning County.

The gates of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company plant, which has been tied up because of a strike of laborers, were reopened today and preparations are being made to resume operation soon. Many former employees reported for duty and were at once put to work. The furnaces are still banked but workers were assigned to cleaning up and making repairs.

Fred C. Croxton, the Federal mediator sent here in an effort to settle the strike, continued his conference with representatives of the companies and employees today. Mr. Croxton conferred yesterday with James A. Campbell, president of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company. He also plans to discuss the situation with T. J. Brady of the Republic Iron and Steel Company, whose employees also are on strike.

BOXING NOTES.

Boston, Jan. 10.—When the announcement was made last Tuesday night at the Armory A. A. Just before the greatest battle that has been seen in this city in recent years and in which Charlie White and Matt Wells were principals, that Tom Cowler, whom Jim Corbett is grooming for battle, and battling Levinsky of New York are to star in the feature bout Tuesday night, the atmosphere, dense as it was from the volumes of smoke that issued from the long black cigars the members smoked, was rent by the cheers of those members.

It is regarded as the best heavyweight battle that has been arranged by a local club in years. With Corbett coming to handle his charge, the fans who follow the game will have an added attraction. Few of the modern followers of the game have ever seen the ex-champion. He was rated as the clearest heavyweight of all time, and they say in New York that he has imparted his wonderful knowledge of the game to Cowler so well that Cowler in style is a counterpart of the pompadour champion.

Levinsky is a man who must be reckoned on, however, no matter what the status of his opponent, he is fast, a good general and a wonderful inside worker. That feature he demonstrated when he faced Sandy Ferguson, who towered above him. He blocks well, and knows how to avoid punishment.

WORKED IN THIS CITY

Word was received in this city on Monday of the death in Perth, Ontario, of Charles F. Campbell, a former employee of W. A. Bragdon's store. He left this city about six years ago. He is survived by a wife and two daughters, Mrs. Alice J. Fernald of this city and Miss Ethel Campbell.

Yesterday's weather was a sudden change from a winter's blinding storm to a cold rain, then a warm April shower. Late at night the temperature again dropped and a cold rain set in for the night.

A MEMORIAL TO B. F. WEBSTER

DIRECTORS OF PORTSMOUTH TRUST AND GUARANTEE CO. PASS RESOLUTION FOLLOWING DEATH OF THEIR ASSOCIATE.

At the regular meeting of the Directors of the Portsmouth Trust and Guarantee Company held at its banking rooms on Monday afternoon, the following resolution was unanimously adopted.

"Benjamin F. Webster, born on the seventh day of September 1824, having been a member of this Board since January 14th, 1902 and having died at his home in this city on the fifth day of January instant, we who survive him desire to put on record our appreciation of the deceased as an honest, upright man, a good citizen and a faithful official and true friend of this Company. Coming to this city a poor boy at the age of seventeen years with no money, friends, or influence of any kind to aid him, he willingly took his place in the ranks of the day laborers and since that time until a few days before his death he never ceased to work and never rested from his labor, and from so humble a beginning he became the largest owner of residential real estate in our city. His charitable acts were many but known only to few besides the recipients. Honesty, industry, frugality and temperance in all things were the conspicuous virtues which he exemplified in his life and which made him favorably known to all our citizens.

We desire also to tender to the children, family and friends of the deceased our sympathy at his time in their affliction and to join with them in sorrow at their great loss.

RESOLVED—That this memorial be spread upon our records and a copy thereof be forwarded to the bereaved family.

A true copy of record.
Attest, W. C. WALTON, Clerk.

NEWSPAPERMEN IN FORD PARTY PUT UP IN SANATORIUM

The Hague, Jan. 10.—Because the hotels are full, the 50 newspaper correspondents accompanying the Ford peace party have been quartered in a Dutch sanatorium.

No guest of the sanatorium is permitted to use tobacco or liquor in any form. No meat is allowed to contaminate the bill of fare, which consists largely of fruits, ground figs and queen vegetables. Guards of impressive appearance threaten to oust any correspondent who fails to obey the regulations. Miss Schwimmer arranged for the quartering of the correspondents and a press caucus voted that she sent the newspapermen to the tobaccoists' retreat out of revenge. She has been very angry, because correspondents called home accounts of the various rows among the peace delegates.

Peace meetings began here today, but for some reason they are under the auspices of the Royal Zoological and Botanical Society instead of being arranged by Dutch peace societies.

Holland newspaper men declare the Ford enterprise has not aroused the interest of Dutch peace leaders. The Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones predicted today that the permanent peace tribunal will sit at Stockholm instead of the Hague on account of the friendly feeling of the Swedish people toward the peace movement. A secret campaign is being waged by several of the Ford leaders to win places on this tribunal which call for salaries and expenses.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated give "California Syrup of Figs."

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping. When cross, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, your bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

STATE HOUSE LETTER

State House, Boston, Jan. 10.—The legislature of 1916 is starting off in a cloud and unless something untoward happens in a short time the harmony program of the Republican party is doomed to be shattered. This is the general under current of opinion in Massachusetts political circles despite the efforts of the Republican leaders to offset it.

Governor Samuel W. McCall in his inaugural address places a severe burden upon the legislature and several of his recommendations are so drastic that they seriously interfere with the "bread and butter" of many of the staunchest adherents of the Republican doctrine now coddling down state jobs.

CAMPAIGN TO DEFEAT ARMY AND NAVY BUDGET

Washington, Jan. 8.—In order that there should be no mistaking its position, the Anti-Militarism Committee, which has opened headquarters in Washington to combat the pending army and navy budgets, has changed its name to the Anti "Preparedness" Committee. The committee has added to its membership Dr. James P. Warburton of Brooklyn, N. Y., Mrs. Glendower Evans of Boston and Miss Zona Gale of Portland, Me. In an explanatory statement the committee says:

"In the few weeks the committee has been organized, we have discovered that the word 'preparedness' has a perfectly definite meaning to the country. It is falling steadily into evil repute as the people begin to appreciate that the preparedness programs all mean a huge navy and a vast increase in our military budget, with universal compulsory military service in the distance as the goal towards which the militarists are striving. This is 'preparedness'—in quotation marks—and this is the thing we are fighting. Deploring that this is no time for indirection and circumlocutions, the committee has decided to make impossible any misconception of its position by renaming itself the Anti 'Preparedness' Committee."

"But even as we close in on the 'preparedness' forces, we find them shifting their position. Three weeks ago they were talking wildly about an inevitable invasion of the United States by Germany. Now, it is interesting to note, they are already modifying their stand. Senator Williams of Massachusetts is to send Henry Cabot Lodge back to Washington. The heavy vote polled by former Governor David I. Walsh in the last state election has not been lost sight of in the Republican ranks and a determined effort will, undoubtedly be made to balk any plan that may jeopardize Lodge's reelection. McCall's attitude towards the candidacy of Senator John W. Weeks for the Republican nomination for president is another disturbing element in the offering which may withhold the support of the Weeks' delegation in the legislature from the Governor.

According to comment in the corridors of the State House Governor McCall is not going to see many of his recommendations carried out. One of the strongest lobbies that has ever been brought to bear upon a Massachusetts General Court will be in evidence this year, it is predicted, and the efforts of this lobby will be directed against several of the measures urged by the Governor.

The coming Presidential campaign and the direct primary fight for United States Senator will also have their effect upon the state administration and the legislature is already beginning to find itself between two fires. Governor McCall asks the legislature to abolish practically all of the big state commissions and also to place the appointive heads of all state departments under civil service. He also wants to have all the state examining boards wiped out and one board appointed to handle all examinations. These are the chief factors of the inauguration in which a split in the Republican party will come, if it does.

In the personnel of the Public Service Commission, the Highway Commission, the Harbor and Land Commission and other important boards are men who have a powerful influence in Massachusetts politics and who are pledged to other interests; higher up who wield even a more powerful influence. Friends of these men and friends of a thousand or more employees of their departments have already begun to canvass the members of the legislature in relation to their attitude towards the wishes of Governor McCall.

It is going to take a lot of courage on the part of the members of the Senate and House to put through a bill dropping these people from the pay roll of the Commonwealth for they realize the effect it may have on the coming United States Senate and Presidential fights. The main interest of the old guard of the Republican Party in Massachusetts is to send Henry Cabot Lodge back to Washington.

Mississippi admits that there is no likelihood that Germany will actually invade the United States, but he suggests that she will adopt a "bullying policy" in her relationships with us. "This is pure assumption for which the Senator offers no evidence, if American diplomacy has been able to adjust difficulties with Germany arising in the strain and effort of a world war why should not our diplomacy be able to take care of post-bellum difficulties? Senator Williams bases his pessimistic view upon the theory that Germany will be the victor, but he does not seem to realize that a victorious Germany means a Germany surrounded by jealous European foes who would not hesitate to spring again at her if she gave them an excuse. The Senator's war scare is like all the others in that it ignores some vital factor or other in the situation."

"The Anti Preparedness Committee believes that the country is not intimidated by war scares, sincere or otherwise, and that it is unalterably opposed to any such break with our national policy as the various preparedness schemes propose."

The committee, which has headquarters in the Museum Building, consists of Miss Lillian D. Wald, Paul U. Kellogg, Mrs. Crystal Eastman Benedict, Frederick G. Lynch, John Haynes Holmes, Miss Alice Lewisohn, Mrs. Glendower Evans, Dr. James P. Warburton, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Louis P. Lochner, Mrs. Florence Kelley, Miss Zona Gale, Max Eastman, Allan L. Benson and L. Hollingsworth Wood.

Massachusetts is to send Henry Cabot Lodge back to Washington.

The heavy vote polled by former Governor David I. Walsh in the last state election has not been lost sight of in the Republican ranks and a determined effort will, undoubtedly be made to balk any plan that may jeopardize Lodge's reelection. McCall's attitude towards the candidacy of Senator John W. Weeks for the Republican nomination for president is another disturbing element in the offering which may withhold the support of the Weeks' delegation in the legislature from the Governor.

WHAT AUNT JANE SAYS

"What brother John would call a ripping way to fix smelt," said Aunt Jane, "but what is particularly nice when you don't rip the smelt, is to be done with pretty good-sized fish. You should choose the largest smelt you have. After cleaning them, wipe them dry in a clean linen."

"Beat three eggs, with a tablespoonful of butter. Put each of the fish in this omelet, which, by the way, you should season with salt, pepper and a little mustard. After taking the fish out of the egg, roll it in bread crumbs or Indian meal, and pass a wooden skewer through its eyes. Thread three or four smelts on each skewer, and then fry them. Serve the fish on the skewer with a half a lemon for each person."

NEW HAMPSHIRE COLLEGE NOTES

RAISES 39 BUSHELS OF POTATOES ON EIGHTH ACRE

The Boys Agricultural Club potato contest conducted by the Extension Service of New Hampshire College for the season of 1915 was won by Bernard Sabhorn of Chester, aged 13 years, who scored a total of 83.1 points. John Tupper of Salem was a close second with 77.99 points. Robert Hazelton, a boy of ten years, of Chester, was third with a score of 8.17 points. George Edmunds of Northwood was 4th with 51.83 points, and Harold Prink of Newington was 5th with 78.53 points. Fred McCann of Salem, Bernard and Harold Watson of Chester, Myron Holmes of Northwood and Samuel Varian of Salem Depot follow with scores in the order named. These boys are eligible to try for the State Contest to be decided at Durham on Farmer's Week.

The winning boy raised 39.8 bushels of potatoes on an eighth of an acre at the cost of 42.5 per bushel. His prize is a trip to Durham on Farmer's Week where he can enjoy a full week of instruction in agriculture.

There were 72 boys planted in the contest.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Dandruff of any drug store, put a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.

AT ONCE! STOPS STOMACH MISERY AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs feel fine.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Diapiesin, put this down: Pape's Diapiesin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapiesin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapiesin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no bloating, no eruptions of indigestible food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

SPEED KING JOINS HIPPODROME SKATERS

With the present vogue of skating in America, Charles Dillingham is ever on the qui vive to continue the interest centered upon the ice pond of the Hippodrome, where "Flirting at St. Moritz" has proven a sensation. He added Lamy Brothers to these amazing and timely feature last week, and in so doing he makes the group of international skaters complete. Edmund A. Lamy, by defeating Maurice Wood in February 1912, became World's Champion speed skater, and rapid ice skating was the only style not introduced heretofore at the Hippodrome, where Charlotte's marvellous executions, Pope and Kerner's beautiful pair skating, and Katie Schmidt's, Ellen Dillinger's and Hilma Reuckert's various styles introduced every known class of school and fancy skating. The Lamy's performance is a sensation and proved a startling novelty in speed and trick ice skating.

Houghton and Stullings seem determined to give Boston good baseball this season, and they are both hard workers.

The "White Way" will be in operation within a few weeks as the work of getting the poles up will move forward fast from now on.

Doan's Regulat are recommended by many who say they operate easily, without griping and without bad after effects. 25c at all drug stores.

KITTERY LOSES AN OLD CITIZEN

Mr. William S. Pinkham Passes Away at Daughter's Home.

William S. Pinkham, one of the oldest and best known citizens of Kittery, passed away last night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred M. Stacy, in that town.

He was born in Saco, Me., August 8, 1829, the son of the Rev. Isiah and Mary A. Pinkham. After completing his schooling he took to the sea and followed the name for some time. He was for a great many years employed on the navy yard, a number of years as boss tigger, a position that he filled with credit to himself and the government, for he was of the old school of workmen and his work was always well done. His last big rigging job was the removal of the shears some years ago, and the shears were taken down without an accident of any kind.

He was a fine old gentleman who had friends among the young as well as the old. He leaves two sons, E. C. Pinkham and Elsworth E. Pinkham, and two daughters, Mrs. Fred M. Stacy and Mrs. Thomas E. Wilson all of Kittery; also eight grandchildren, three brothers and one sister.

The funeral service will be held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred M. Stacy of Kittery, on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Friends invited. Kindly omit flowers.

THE KELTONS PRESENTING GREAT ACT

MUSICAL ACT AT THE COLONIAL HEADS FINE BILL FOR FIRST THREE DAYS OF THE WEEK

The three Keltons are billed as presenting "one of the best musical acts now playing the vaudeville circuit" and from their work at the Colonial last evening they are certainly living right up to their billing. It is without exception one of the best, if not the finest, that has played here this season.

The net opened with a trio number, two cornets and trombone and was followed by a xylophone solo. "The Second Hungarian Rhapsody" played in a masterly manner by Miss Kelton. There are very few women today, on or off the stage, who are even passably fair at the drums and xylophone, but Miss Kelton is an exception and her work as presented here yesterday was little short of being on a par with Low and others of his class.

The entire act was excellent and was heartily applauded and appreciated by the large audience.

The Fines, a lady and gentleman, presented a fine athletic novelty act that took well with the house. Several of the stunts are vastly different from any seen here before and the act is better staged and dressed than the majority of athletic turns. The climax number, in which Mr. Fane bends backward from a table, resting his weight on his hands on the floor, and then veering his position standing on the table, is one turn that has the appearance of disregarding the laws of gravitation.

Some of the best eccentric dancing that has been presented in Portsmouth was offered by Johnnie Bell, who came to the theatre fresh from a tour of the south where he has been a big sensation. Mr. Bell adapted the character of a Chinese and from the applause he was given he has been acknowledged as a real hit.

In addition to the excellent vaudeville program the picture program stands as good as the best. The three part Lubin drama, "Beyond All Love," is beautiful and tells a dramatic story that catches hold; while Charlie Chaplin in "Shanghai" is funnier than ever.
